Pact Flex Offers Made-to-Measure Customization on Standard Lead Times

This extension on Keilhauer's celebrated Pact Sofa line eliminates the traditional trade-off between time and customization

January 14, 2025 (Toronto, ON) – Keilhauer is thrilled to introduce Pact Flex, a customizable length seating system that offers sizing options to fit any space, on standard lead times. The versatile sofa is an extension of the acclaimed Pact seating collection designed by EOOS, boasting the sleek and comfortable design of the original Pact sofa, with the addition of two additional base options.

“This product was designed to fit into spaces exactly as needed, eliminating compromises or delays commonly associated with custom length benching”, say Mike Keilhauer, CEO. “We’re proud to offer this beautiful seating system to meet designer needs on standard lead times”.

Pact Flex is a “one-collection-fits-all” seating system that offers a structured clean look with limitless flexibility to suit your design needs. It can operate as a configurable sofa, booth seating, or a benching system and is available in 3 base options to achieve the desired aesthetic – modern slim legs, to-the-floor design that sits on a solid oak frame, or cushions-only installed with customer’s own base.

Each piece is customizable by the inch between 25” and 60”, and can be configured to create a straight bench, and L-shaped configuration, or a U-Shaped configuration, making it ideal for hallways, lunchrooms, and breakout spaces.

Reflecting Keilhauer’s commitment to sustainable and responsible design, Pact Flex is certified to the highest standards: BIFMA LEVEL® 3, Certified Carbon Neutral, Greenhealth Approved, and Indoor Air Quality certified at the Indoor Advantage Gold™ level. Designed by EOOS and made by Keilhauer, Pact Flex offers customization and convenience without compromise.
